Amdocs Signs an Agreement to Purchase Prime Real-Estate in Ra'anana for its Future Israel Campus

Company looks to future campus as an opportunity to shape company culture and improve the experience for its employees in Israel

ST. LOUIS – September 13, 2017 – Amdocs (NASDAQ: DOX), the leading provider of customer experience solutions, entered into an agreement, pursuant to which Amdocs will acquire prime commercial land located in Ra'anana, Israel. Closing of the transaction is subject to customary closing conditions, as well as waiver of a third party's rights with respect to such land.

Amdocs intends to use the land to be acquired under the agreement to serve as the site of a new campus that will provide an advanced, optimal working environment that can fully meet the needs of Amdocs Israel, an Amdocs company, and its employees and support the company's future growth.

Amdocs is currently evaluating various alternatives with respect to the future development and construction of the new campus, including structures for ownership or long-term lease arrangements. The acquisition costs are not expected to have a material impact on Amdocs' cash position or operating results.
