Forward-Looking Statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements (within the meaning of the U.S. federal securities laws) that involve substantial risks and uncertainties. These forward-looking statements are only predictions and may differ materially from actual results due to a variety of factors, including, but not limited to: changes in the overall economy; changes in competition in markets in which we operate; changes in the demand for our products and services; the loss of a significant customer; consolidation within the industries in which our customers operate; changes in the telecommunications regulatory environment; changes in technology that impact both the markets we serve and the types of products and services we offer; financial difficulties of our customers; losses of key personnel; difficulties in completing or integrating acquisitions; litigation and regulatory proceedings; and acts of war or terrorism. Please refer to our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including our Annual Report on Form 20-F filed on December 8, 2014, for a discussion of these and other important factors.

You can identify forward-looking statements by words such as "expect," "anticipate," "believe," "seek," "estimate," "project," "forecast," "continue," "potential," "should," "would," "could," "intend" and "may," and other words that convey uncertainty of future events or outcome. Statements that we make in this presentation that are not statements of historical fact also may be forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance, and involve risks, uncertainties, and assumptions that may cause our actual results to differ materially from the expectations that we describe in our forward-looking statements. There may be events in the future that we are not accurately able to predict, or over which we have no control. You should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Although we may elect to update forward-looking statements in the future, we disclaim any obligation to update do so, even if our assumptions and projections change, except where applicable law may otherwise require us to do so.
